

Shikuro, Class of 2018

SC Whitmore School was the right school for me because I was able to finish classes, go and do my classes whenever I want to, and I was able to finish school really fast. I was able to get a job earlier. I was finished with school in February, and I was open to doing my job hours. I wasn't tied up with school or anything. School my way meant that on weekends I could go ahead and start my next week of school, and I was always two, three days ahead. Whenever I was backed up I was able to go back and review my other lessons because if I didn't feel like I did well I was already ahead so I wasn't getting behind by going back to my other lessons. Now, I'm gonna go to Central. SC Whitmore School allowed me to graduate a whole year early so I'm ahead with my future goals. I'll be spending my time at Central for two years in the nursing program because I want to be a Nurse Practitioner. If you want to be free, if you want to get the best out of your school hours SC Whitmore is a really good school to go to. They give you stability to go and do as much lessons as you want as long as you want. SC Whitmore can do that.
